CITIES' FUNDS GO TO STINNES

German Business King Draws Towns Into Corporation

BECOME STOCKHOLDERS

Have Decided Interest in Prosperity of Company

By MILTON BRONNER
BERLIN—(Special)—“Every little penny added to what you've got makes just a little bit more,” seems to be the favorite motto of Hugo Stinnes, the uncrowned king of German business.
Like some of our own American business men, he early found the formula —convert coal into gas or electric power or set it to pumping water and you will soon have entire communities pouring their r-money into your coffers. There are indications in America which own and control all
the public utilities but it is not clear whether any of them found such a fat field as Stinnes has discovered.

The 12-year-old Ruhr region is peculiarly fitted for vindicated control
RHR IS IDEAL LOCATION
The coal is right there in the Ruhr. It doesn't have to be hauled miles before being available. So it's cheap. In the next place the Ruhr valley and the neighboring country is studded with large business manufacturing towns in which most of the people are workers either in mines or steel and iron mills. Consequently they are highly paid laborers live in comfortable homes and want all the conveniences of electric lighting, abundant water supply, and gas for cooking purposes. Furthermore the entire region is a network of street car systems and of electric narrow gauge railways which haul material from mill to mill.

Twenty-five years ago Stinnes became active in forming several companies to undertake the public utilities as usual with Stinnes concerns they were finally combined into the big Rhenish-Westphalian Electric Works Corporation.
The present field is enormous. It covers a region from the Dutch frontier as far south as Ahtal and is especially strong around Dusseldorf. Cologne, Dortmund, Essen and Bremen in several places its electric power plants actually stand at the edge of coal mines so the fuel costs from pit to boiler.

THE ELECTRIC PLANTS NOT ONLY SUP-PLY LIGHT for many cities of the Ruhr and for the illumination of big works but also the power used in the street railways most of which are owned and operated by the municipalities. Stinnes cleverly got the local fathers to invest municipal money in the Rhenish-Westphalian
Electric Works Corporation.
Thus the towns have a decided interest in the prosperity of the corporation. As consumers they buy electric current for their street lighting and their street railways.
As stockholders they participate in the considerable profits of the company. This is true of big cities like Essen, Dusseldorf, Dortmund, Solingen, Gelsenkirchen and all the other steel towns of which one heard so much in the war.

THE COMPANY HAS ALSO GONE EXtensively into the gas business. In the past few years it has erected and operates the gas plants for about 25 miles in the Ruhr region.
It also controls and partly owns a considerable number of water power plants. The first thing Stinnes did when he bought into the concern was to get the electric power stations and the gas plants combined into one company. The available report of production of the Rhenish-Westphalian Electric Works for the year ending March 31, 1921, shows that it produced 1,000,000,000 kilowatt hours of electric power and 1,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas.
It also produced 1,000,000 tons of coal.
The company is a public corporation with 100,000 shareholders. It is a typical example of the German business system. The company is a public corporation with 100,000 shareholders.

business system.

CRAIG REPORTS TO BRITISH SOLONS

Situation is Beyond Control, Ulster Premier Says

FOUR ADDED TO DEATH LIST

Bombing Outbreak Causes Many New Casualties

LONDON—(United Press)—
Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, telegraphed today to the British government that the situation in Belfast is “extremely grave.” Winston Churchill, colonial minister made this announcement in the house of commons, adding that Craig and the northern government were doing everything in their power to cope with the situation, but the clashes have gotten beyond control.

DEATH LIST GROWS

BEFORE—(United Press)—
A constable was killed today, making the overnight casualties in Belfast's second warfare four dead and 27 wounded.

Incendiary fires were reported incessantly throughout the night.
Last evening was one of the worst.
Belfast has experienced a severe outbreak of bombing causing many casualties among Protestant workers returning to their homes.

The Carnegie library here was badly damaged by an incendiary fire early today.

Gunmen lay in wait for Protestant workers returning from the ship yards last night and opened fire in reprisal for the arrest of hundreds of Sinn Feiners Tuesday.

Police and military countered with machine gun fire. The gunmen escaped to reappear later with a supply of bombs. Two bombs, thrown at tram cars missed, but wounded 19 persons in the streets.

Preparations Made to Investigate War Frauds

(By LAURENCE M. BENEDICT)
WASHINGTON—(United Press)—
Impending of a special grand jury to hear evidence in war fraud cases got under way here today as criticism of Attorney General Daugh-

Twenty-three prospective jurors were called before District Attorney Gordon. If 12 men can be selected without another drawing of names, Gordon said he believed the jury can be started to work by next Monday.

The plan of administration officials to start the inquiry as soon as possible as the most effective answer to criticism from Capitol Hill.
Daugherty's critics in Congress gave out word today that the grand jury “smoke screen,” as they call it, will not keep them quiet. Senator Caraway said he would soon have something further to say regarding Daugherty's alleged connection with the Morse release and Representatives Woodruff, Michigan and Johnson, South Dakota, Republicans, said they will continue to insist upon action upon their resolution providing an investigation of the department and the other property custodian for alleged larceny in punishing war de-frauders.

OHIOAN SAVED FROM MOB BY RAIN STORM

LANCASTER—Last night's rain and electrical storm together with the arrival of Sheriff C. T. Sperry and two deputies are said to have prevented a band of citizens kidnapping Edgar Rumm, 25, Drum Bottoms near here and applying a coat of tar and feathers.
Earlier in the evening Rumm had been accosted by a mob on a charge of criminal assault on Mrs. Delilah Drumm, 69.

When Edgar Drumm heard that a mob was forming to tar and feather him, he called the sheriff who arrived about midnight. A heavy storm broke about the same time.
The community is said to be highly wrought up over the court action which acquitted Drumm.

REMUS AGAIN SENTENCED TO TERM IN PRISON

CINCINNATI—The determination of United States District Judge J. W. Peck to dispose as soon as possible, of all the whisky conspiracy cases in which Attorney George Remus and others associated with him were indicted, was manifested when the judge called for trial today the fourth of the series.

A jury had convicted Remus and seven others last night of maintaining a nuisance at the Dater farm near here. In violation of the Volstead act, and the judge inflicted jail sentences and fines on all but one of the defendants, George Gillenbeck, who was only fined in the case which started today.
Remus is not a defendant.

The charge alleges transactions in the conduct of the business of the A.
R. Park Company of Cincinnati, a wholesale drug concern, and the defendants are Charles Wissman, Harry Boyd, Harry Flannagan and George Schmueling.

LIVING COST CUT $1,000,000,000

Estimated Result of Reduction in Freight Rates

EVERY PERSON SAVES $10

Slash to be Passed on to the Consumer

(By HERBERT W. WALKER)
WASHINGTON—(United Press)—
The nation's cost of living bill probably will be reduced nearly $1,000,- 000,000 a year as the result of the ten per cent reduction in freight rates ordered by the interstate commerce commission, government experts said today.

This means a saving of $10 a year for every person in the country.
The reduction will cut the nation's freight bill from $300,000,000 to $270,000,000 a year, according to official figures. The government experts who have been following the trend of the cost of living estimate a decrease or an increase in freight charges is more than tripled when it is finally passed on to the consumer.

THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, it was learned today, has orders from President Harding to see that the rate cut is “passed down” to the consumer just as rate increases during the war were quickly “passed on.”
The rate reduction is to become effective on or before July 1, and administration officials look for its reflection in cost of living figures shortly thereafter.

Administration leaders also hope the rate cut order will have an immediate stimulating effect on business. As the commission pointed out, many business operations have been held back due to the belief that a rate reduction was near.

MEANWHILE MEMBERS OF THE commission are watching for the railroad executives' answer to the cut.
Some believe the reductions may be fought in the courts, on the ground that the commission has cut the earnings of the roads below the average congress desired they should receive.

One move on the part of the executives is certain. An appeal will be made to the railroad labor board in the near future for a reduction of wages of all railroad workers because of the rate cut.

The decision on freight rates clearly indicated a strong sentiment among some of the commissioners for a passenger fare reduction but the majority apparently still is against such a cut.

RATE HOLIDAY IS SUGGESTED

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—Declaration of railroad rate holiday—during which railroads could make their own rates without government restriction was suggested today at the treasury as a possible solution of the nation's transportation problem.

High treasury officials discussing the ten per cent rate cut ordered yesterday by the interstate commerce commission said that industrial benefit might be expected if the earning power of the railroads under the new rates is sustained 10 per cent.

SUMMER RESORTS CRITICISED

Logan-co Healthier Makes Attack on Sanitary Conditions

COMMISSIONERS MEET HERE

Dr. Sutter Re-Elected President of Organization

Dr. Carey, health commissioner of Logan-co, in an address before a conference of health commissioners of northwestern Ohio, held Thursday at Memorial Hall, criticized conditions alleged to exist at Indian Lake summer resorts. In the matter of sanitation.

Dr. W. S. Yeager, health commissioner of Putnam-co, also offered criticism along the same lines.

Dr. F. M. Houghtaling, Sandusky, health commissioner of Erie-co, declared that county commissioners had taken charge of the sanitation situation at Rye Beach and Ruggles Beach, which is under his jurisdiction and that those places had been made to conform to healthful requirements.

Dr. Roy K. Evans, Ada, health commissioner from Hardin-co, told of work among the onion growers in the Scioto marsh. He said living conditions there are horrible.

“The people are from Kentucky, without education. They won't obey the health nurse nor the health commissioner,” Evans said. When a case of typhoid fever presents itself, it usually goes thru the entire family.

“We have a problem on the number of cases the past year, but how to cope with them is a problem. As soon as families become educated, they return to Kentucky and are supplied by others, bringing with them Kentucky ways. The school officer has a job every day, keeping those children in school,” Evans said.

Dr. Thomas Fremont said he had solved the problem of such conditions as appeared in the Scioto marsh by “treating 'em rough.”

“And I'll tell you no case of typhoid fever that I ever get hold of will go thru an entire family. I came across a family that lived in an old, tumble-down shack without screens and no conveniences and there were nine of them. The father fell ill to typhoid fever. I went there and found an old woman was caring for him, in a hap-hazard way.”

I shut the bunch up in one room, gave them typhoid vaccine and hustled the husband off to the hospital.

“Work out your own problems.”
Dr. Thomas urged. “Don't shift them back on the state board,” he said.

Miss Gertrude Sutter, niece of Dr. John J. Sutter, Allen-co health commissioner who is health commissioner of Benton, was the only woman commissioner present at the meeting. Miss Keenan of Putnam-co, attended as did Mrs. Pechter, Cincinnati.

Members of the local visitors commission were entertained at luncheon at Hotel Arjonne.

They enjoyed a sight-seeing trip about the city Thursday afternoon after the program was completed.
Each member at the morning session, told of the work he expected to accomplish during the summer.

Dr. F. M. Houghtaling, Sandusky, was the speaker at the afternoon session having for his subject, “Nutrition.” Discussion of health subjects as follows, were on the afternoon program: Picnic grounds, summer resorts, fair grounds, school buildings and grounds, household wastes, infantile paralysis, tetanus, action taken on receipt of notice of “Class T” disease, vaccination of members of Ohio National Guard, Hugues Griswold law amendments, water wells, crippled children and tuberculosis clinics.

Dr. John J. Sutter, Lima health commissioner of Allen-co, was unanimously re-elected president of the conference. Dr. F. L. Whisler, Findlay, was elected secretary. It is probable the fall meeting will be held in Lima because this city is easy of access.

Other health commissioners
aside from those mentioned above, present at the meeting were Charles R. Kizer, Van Wert; G. L. Lyne, Wapakoneta; C. E. Huston, Paulding; H. J. Powell, Bowling Green, Dr. Benj. Tiffin.

The conference includes 22 counties in northern Ohio, all of which were not represented at the meeting.

CHRISTIAN KENT NELSON

Inventor of Eskimo Pie Prefers
His Old Job As School Teacher

CHICAGO—(Special)—Any-body'd think dipping ice cream into hot chocolate would melt the ice cream. Christian Kent Nelson discovered the way to do it, however, at just the right temperature. The result—eskimole pie.

Until he made his discovery Nelson was a poor but contented teacher at Onawa, Ia. Today money's pouring in on him so fast that he's scared. “I want to stay human,” he says.

He tried hard enough to market his idea before it “caught on.”
Most people he approached were skeptical. Finally Russell Stover of Omaha went in with him. From that moment the golden tide began to rise. For Nelson, at any rate, it rose too high.

“Money! The more I see of it, the less I like it. I'd rather be with my books, or back on the job as teacher again,” he exclaims. He hasn't even bought an automobile.

Perhaps wealth came a bit too fast—about a year, from a shoestring to affluence is sudden enough to be disconcerting.

Nelson is a graduate of Nevada University. He's only 29. His father and mother are living and he has brothers and sisters. He's unmarried. When a reporter asked him “Do you intend to take a wife?” “Maybe,” he answered.

West Virginia Miner Arrested on Dynamiting Charge

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—(United Press)—State police today reported the arrest of George Haynes, coal miner of Galeswood in connection with the dynamiting of a tower of the Virginia Power company at Elberton in the New River district.

Bloodhounds from Huntington, where the trail of the alleged dynam-iter, were sent to Haynes' home today.

Haynes denied complicity in the dynamiting, which resulted in 12 miners in the New River field being temporarily put out of commission.
The Virginia company supplied electric power to the mines.

Sheriff C. A. Conley was today searching for two other men, suspected of being implicated in the case.

Miners officials said only slight damage was done to the tower and reported the mines working as usual
today.

UNCLE SAM ACTS TO HALT BOOST

Conference Called at Washington for May 31

MAY FORCE CUT IN CHARGES

Big Increases Made Since Beginning of Strike

(By JAMES T. KOLBERT)
WASHINGTON—(United Press)—
All bituminous coal prices thruout the country have jumped since the nation-wide mine strike began April 1, despite warnings of Secretary Hoover that there is no justification for increases.

Statistics of the National Coal Association printed in its magazine here today showed that the prices of most grades of coal have been increased at the mines from 25 to 50 per cent.
The prices of a few grades have been doubled.

CAUSE OF CONFERENCE
The increases are frankly admitted in the magazine, “The Coal Review.”

Elimination of these increases by voluntary agreement is the main aim of the coal operators conference, Secretary Hoover has called to meet here May 31.

Should the operators fail to reach an agreement, it is probable some action to force prices down will be taken by the federal government.

The bulk of large increases are confined to the two eastern groups.
These increases are being reflected to an even greater extent to the consumer, officials here stated. To the price at the mine is added several turnover charges with the result that the ultimate consumer pays from $13 to $15 per ton, according to the locality.

INCREASES CITED
The biggest increases follow:
Pocahontas screenings quoted at $1.40 per ton at Columbus, April 17, sold as high as $3 per ton on May 17.
Pocahontas mine run, quoted at $1.90 in Columbus on April 17, sold up to $3.

Pocahontas mine run, on the Chicago market increased from $1.65 to $2.75, Pocahontas lump on the Cincinnati market jumped from $2.35 to $3.50.

Smokeless mine run jumped from $4.75 to $7 at Boston and Clearfield mine run from $2.15 to $3.50.
Pool Number 1 coal (navy standard) increased from $3.75 to $4.25 at Baltimore. Similar increases for like grades were registered at New York and Philadelphia. The foregoing are in the “low volatile eastern” group.

In the high volatile eastern group, Kanawha lump increased from $1.60 to $3. West Virginia split lump jumped from $2 to $3 and gas lump from $1.75 to $3.

In the midwest group, Franklin, Ill., mine run increased from $2.75 to $4.25 at Chicago, with other grades in proportion.

Kansas lump advanced from $4.25 to $4.50 at Kansas City with mine run and screenings also registering an increase of 25 cents.

WRECK MAY SAVE NEGRO'S LIFE

Georgia Man's Escape from Mob Believed Providential

MACON, Ga.—(Associated Press)
—Jim Denson, a negro youth whose appeal from a death sentence was carried without avail to the supreme court of the United States and who early this week narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of a mob, was safe today in Bibb co. “mob proof” jail.

“I've sho' mighty proud to be here,” was Jim's smiling comment, even tho' the sentence to be hanged June 16, for an alleged attack on an aged white woman three years ago, still stares him in the face.

Jim, however, had some reason to smile beyond his escape from the mob because numerous white people in this and Wilkinson co., believing his escape was in act of Providence were considering an appeal to Governor Harwick for commutation to life imprisonment.

The negro telling details of the mob's action said he asked them to let him play and they replied that they didn't want him. “I heard them say they would shoot me just out of town,” he said. “The knot on the rope around my neck was choking me. I reached up one hand in the dark and felt the slip knot. I untied it. The automobiles were going thirty miles an hour and I says to myself, Jim, jump or be killed. I jumped for first, flung my arms and hit the ground on my feet and tripped over four times and rolled into the ditch. I got up and ran. I was bare footed my clothes were torn off me and the gravel cut my feet.”

LIFE NOT SWEET, CONGRESSMAN COURTS DEATH

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—Willing to take a chance with death to prove himself the real estate date devil of congress, Representative Manuel Herrick, Republican, Oklahoma accepted an aviator's challenge today to join him in a high flight with the brakes off.

Herbert J. Fahey, the flier, had promised the Oklahoman that he would lose more than a necktie if he agreed to go up. “You will at your earliest convenience go with me to the war department,” Mr. Herrick wrote “and make the request for a plane and I will back up the request as a congressman, personally.”

The Oklahoma house member said he would make no request himself because he was sore at the department for issuing an order that he must not do any more stunt flying over the capitol for fear it might fall upon the skylight and fracture a pane or two and thus put some slivers of glass in some sleepy senator's or congressman's nose.”

“If you really have any sand in your craw to make good the challenge,” Mr. Herrick added “why you just money around to my office and we will go to the war department together.”

Dropping into his own home made poetry Herrick gave this “If when we fly away on high we should fall down and die, “Any one who wants to cry must rub an onion in their eye.”

Advising Fahey to take out some life insurance, Herrick said he had none adding “Personally I don't have to as I am not leaving any dependents behind. For I have neither father nor mother sister nor brother uncle or aunt nephew or niece nor cousin even in the forty-third degree. Life to me is not sweet and I don't care two whoops in Gehenna if you go up a couple of miles and stand her on her nose and let her hit.”

CO-OPERATION ON INCREASE

Joint Operations in Business Growing, Forbes Says

SEEN IN ALL INDUSTRIES

Importance of Consolidation Stressed by Writer

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special) — Say-ages don't know how to cooperate. Civilization starts when human beings develop sense enough to begin to cooperate. A hundred years or a thousand years from now our descendants will probably look back and marvel at our foolishness, our cut-throat competition, our lack of cooperation, our shortsighted maneuvering to get the better of one another, etc., etc.

Just as last century was the century of competition, this century promises to be the century of cooperation. Our huge business combinations constitute a species of co-operation. The world's greatest industrial consolidation was brought into being at the opening of the present century, and since then combination and cooperation have spread widely. And it is perhaps significant that one of the longest headed business men of the day, the head of our Federal Department of Commerce, Herbert Hoover, ardently advocates the carrying of cooperation a great deal further.

The cooperative spirit, and its near relative, consolidation, are making notable progress. They are coming to the front in agriculture, in the fruit industry, in transportation, in industry, in mining, in the export trade, in the buying of merchandise, in the newspaper field, in apartment building and ownership, in the realm of electricity, in the lumber business, in banking, in the theatrical and moving picture worlds, in the oil industry, in the coal trade, etc.

Perhaps you don't know or suspect the amount of cooperation that has been going on among stock swindlers. Apparently, leading bucket shops had an extraordinarily effective system of cooperating with one another in moves to fleece the public. When the moment was ripe, they got together and raised certain stock quotations so as to wipe out margins put up by customers. Also, there were evolved amazingly ingenious plans for getting hold of and exchanging or buying and selling "sucker lists" that is, long lists of names of actual or prospective victims. Tens of thousands of dollars have sometimes been paid for choice lists of persons who had been lured into doing business with questionable brokers or promoters.

There has, in fact, been more co-operation among those seeking to rob the investing public than among those interested in safeguarding the investing public.

Lately, however, energetic measures have been taken in certain states and in certain communities to drum out such swindlers.

I just received a number of issues of a Binghamton, N. Y., newspaper containing an excellent series of advertisements inserted by the local banks, acting cooperatively. These salutary warnings against unscrupulous promoters and brokers, supplemented by information about what the banks can do for depositors and investors, are signed by nine banks, saving banks and trust companies.

Some of the captions, prominently displayed, read, "Are you on the 'sucker list'?" "Honest dealers in securities." "550 gave Rockefeller his start." The statements are all expressed in language that any and every member of the community can understand.

There is probably not a single city or town in the whole land that doesn't need similar warnings, similar education work, similar cooperation on the part of the local financial institutions. Banks traditionally are slow going, ultra-conservative, narrow-visioned. But in most places they are now changing. They are becoming wide-awake. They are becoming progressive. They are taking a broader view of their responsibilities. They are seeking to play a worthy part in helping the community that supports them.

This cooperative education work by financial institutions should be taken up all over the land.

Here is a chance for some master advertising man in each town and city to take hold of a task worthy of his mettle and wrestle with it until he has convinced the banking leaders of the need and the value of their banding together to save their local citizens from the claws of "investment" swindlers and incidentally, to drive home the helpful services which the banking institutions can perform for all classes.

Is it not ideal business when you can do good and at the same time earn good profits?

TED'S FISHING FOR BULLHEADS

Fishing for bullheads is always most prolific of results just before, during or after a rain, expert anglers say. That's reason plenty for Ted trying hold of his tackle and trucking away toward "fishin' grounds."

Showers and thunderstorms today and Friday, with little change in temperature. That means, it is accepted, that many bullheads will continue until the weatherman sees fit to change the order of things. Delightfully cool conditions prevailed last night, following a mid-afternoon shower that drove the populace indoors and pressed up the Lions convention decorations.

It's a wise guy who comforts himself to the point of optimism in the weather game.

CLUE IN PETERS' DEATH SECURED

Anonymous Writer Expected to Solve Mystery

MAY BE QUESTIONED TODAY

Probe of Ward's Blackmail Story Goes on

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. — (Associated Press) — Investigators today continued to delve beneath the story of Walter S. Ward, wealthy baking company official, who has declared he shot and killed Clarence Peters, former navy man, in a fight growing out of a blackmail plot.

Latest development have aroused the question as to how long Ward had been acquainted with Peters before the killing.

New revelations, expected from an anonymous letter received by District Attorney Weeks, were looked for today.

The prosecuting official is confident the writer, who claimed to be a soldier and to have known Ward, will reveal his knowledge as to what caused the death of Peters, also at one time in another branch of the United States forces.

"I do not believe a crank wrote that letter," said Mr. Weeks. "And I have a clue as to how I can reach him. I would not be surprised if he arrived at White Plains some time today and talked. What he says, I believe, may be of great value in tracing the hidden depths of the story Ward tells."

DATES RAISE QUESTION

The Peters family in Haverhill, Mass., claim to have a post card from young Peters from South Carolina, dated early in May. Peters was rejected by the marine corps May 11, according to government reports.

Allowing for the shortest possible time Peters could not have reached New York before May 13, and he went on his death ride on the night of May 15. The blackmail plot had been going on for six weeks, according to Ward's story.

The statement of police from surrounding towns that Peters was seen on Ward Baking company trucks several times before his death was made known to the authorities here and would indicate that Peters was in Ward's vicinity for some time before the killing occurred.

Investigators employed by the Peters' family have notified the authorities here that they are trying to run to earth the reports that Ward may have known Peters in Boston, which would date the acquaintance back of the time that the dead sailor tried to enlist in the marines.

SHERIFF HAS GUN

Sheriff George Werner says he has the gun used by Ward. "I can produce Ward's gun when it is needed," said the sheriff, "and it will show that more than one shot was fired."

"How about Peters' gun?" he was asked.

"I can't say anything about that," he replied.

Altho the sheriff says he does not hold the discharged shells from the eight bullets said to have been fired in the fight near the Kensco reservoir he is sure they are in safe custody and will be produced when necessary. State police found only one near the scene of the gun fight described by Ward.

The sheriff also displayed the garments found on Peters and showed that a bullet had pierced his vest and shirt in front and passed thru the coat, vest and shirt in back. This indicated, he said, that Peters must have had his coat open when the shot that killed him was fired.

The entrance of investigators for the Peters family has added to the tension here and complicated a mysterious situation.

The authorities' attitude toward the blackmail plot story and other portions of Ward's confession is typified in District Attorney Weeks' declaration that there is no limit to the length he will go to clear up the mystery of the killing and its causes.

REPLICA OF BRIDGE IN GAELIC WAR TIME BUILT BY LIMA LATIN STUDENTS

Lima is to see a replica of the bridge built by Julius Caesar, a Roman general when he and his troops crossed the Rhine during the Gaulic war, 68 to 61 B. C.

Latin students have always considered the chapter telling of this bridge as the hardest portion of "Caesar's Commentaries," and it was to make the Latin text clearer that the building of the bridge was started.

A dozen boys and girls from Miss Deputy's Sophomore Latin class, Central high school, worked on the structure. It is very well made and shows how strong and well constructed the original bridge was.

It will be on display later in the week in one of the windows in the Harman furniture store.

BLOTTER SYSTEM IS ADOPTED BY LANKER AT POLICE STATION

Lima police station assumed a metropolitan air Thursday, so far as registration of charges is concerned, when Chief of Police Lanker installed a blotter at the desk sergeant's quarters.

The blotter does away with the old system of booking prisoners on arrest slips padded together in the form of a small booklet and provides for recording of a large amount of detail which has been impossible under the old system.

Every fact concerning a prisoner that is of importance will be recorded and afterward filed and indexed for future reference. Diligent search was formerly necessary in digging up departmental facts. One copy of the blotter goes each day to the chief, another to criminal court.

Lanker also installed a blotter for use in registering pawn transactions. It has been left at the Philip Kohn & company store, corner Market-st and the public square. It is expected by the police department to keep track of everything that is pawned.

BUCKEYE CASTINGS CO. PLANS EXPANSION; C. C. COMMITTEE AIDS MOVE

Expansion plans of the Buckeye Castings Co. were explained to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting at the Lima club Thursday noon.

It is planned to add a modern steel foundry to the gray iron foundry now in operation. This will greatly increase the capacity of the plant and will make more different kinds of work possible.

When the extensions have been made the number of men employed by the company will be increased to 80 and a payroll of $2,000 a week made possible, John Sonnenfeld, president of the company, told the directors.

A committee of the Chamber of Commerce composed of Paul Crawford, George Metheny and R. B. Dunn was appointed to confer with the officials of the company and to aid them, if possible, in the expansion plans.

Glen Webb, president of the Chamber of Commerce and J. Kenneth Johnson, manager, of the Chamber of Commerce, were named to represent the body at the Americanization meeting to be held Friday night at the Hotel Argonne by the Lima Federation of Women's clubs.

C. C. BOARD URGES LAW AGAINST FURTHER GAS STATIONS ON CURBS

Recommendation that the city commission pass the proposed ordinance abolishing curbside gas filling stations was made by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon Thursday at the Lima club.

It was recommended, however, that the retroactive feature be removed.

Charles Shappell appeared before the directors and presented the case for the owners of the curb stations. Shappell told them he has 22 stations thruout the city and has made an investment of $16,000. It would cost more than $1,000 to remove them, he said.

Other companies also have curb stations. Lily White has five, Dupont has three and the Standard Oil has two. H. L. Breckenridge, city commissioner, told the directors the view of the commission and then withdrew while the directors acted on the recommendation.

RUMORS OF SALE OF HARMAN STORE DENIED

Rumors that the Hoover-Bond Furniture Co. is contemplating the purchase of the F. E. Harman Co. furniture dealers, was denied by both Harman and Hoover Thursday.

"No negotiations have been opened with Hoover for the purchase of his building and stock. I have been bothered by many persons who have heard the rumor. There is nothing to it," Hoover said.

"I know nothing about the sale of my store. I do not contemplate selling out and have not been conducting any negotiations for its sale," Harman said.

MAIN-ST TAR "SMOTHERED" BY USE OF CRUSHED STONE

Crushed stone is being distributed along Main-st where the tar coating has become a nuisance to those using the streets. The stone is being worked into the tar by the action of the automobiles and trucks.

It is pointed out by those using the streets that the tar will again work to the surface and in a few weeks be as much of a nuisance as it has been in the past. City officials are positive, however, that frequent applications of stone will finally result in a solid temporary pavement.

JURY CHOSEN FOR MICHAEL CASE

Wooley Housekeeper Begins Second Battle For Auto

SEEKS HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS

Suit Ordered Back For Retrial by Appeals Court

Hearing of evidence in the case brought by Maude Michael, 124 S. Jamison-ay, to replevin a touring car and household effects from R. E. Davis, administrator of the Joseph Wooley estate, commenced Thursday afternoon.

A jury was secured shortly before the Monday recess to try the case. Nine witnesses will testify for the plaintiff and eight for the defense.

SECOND TRIAL OF CASE

The case is being tried for a second time, a new hearing having been granted the defense by court of appeals. Miss Michael obtained a verdict for everything claimed in her petition, from the jury that heard the first trial.

Miss Michael, former housekeeper for Wooley, was working in a Lima department store in 1918. Wooley and his wife persuaded her to become their house keeper, on promise that she would inherit their property.

Joseph Wooley died in 1920 without leaving a will. His estate was claimed for Mrs. Hazel Robinson Newbold and other natural heirs. Davis was named administrator.

Claims made by the plaintiff, that Joseph Wooley gave her the car and house furnishings prior to his death constitutes the basis for the litigation on trial.

Miss Michael and her mother, seated behind an array of legal talent, are central figures in the court room.

On the opposite side of the table also with counsel is seated Mrs. Hazel Robinson Newbold, Little Rock, Arkansas, a distant niece of the decedent. She and a brother are contesting Miss Michael's claim to the car and person effects.

PERSONNEL OF JURY

The jury hearing the case comprises C. N. Chenoweth, 651 W. Elm-st; Martin Cullen, 136 E. Circular-st; C. F. Alexander, 528 S. West-st; Norman Evans, 1015 Fair-ay; C. C. Crossley, 621 S. EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE FACED BY TONY DICKSON, CASH REGISTER SALESMAN

William Tony Dickson, 35, cash register salesman, arrested by Cleveland police on a warrant issued by Justice E. M. Botkin, charging him with embezzlement, was brought to Lima for trial Thursday.

Detective Wilbur Cherry who went to Cleveland to bring Dickson to Lima, located his man there some days ago and notified the Cleveland department.

Dickson is charged with embezzling $110 in cash and a cash register worth $125, all property of the Egry Register company, Dayton.

Dickson worked in Lima a short time, as representative of the register company.

He originally was located in West Virginia, it is said.

Lima ministers and laymen will meet with others from various cities of the state at the annual meeting of the Ohio Federation of Churches at Columbus June 6 and 7.

A program for the coming year will be worked out and general church matters discussed by the body. Among these are a co-operative evangelistic campaign and a legislative lobby in favor of legislation to elevate the public morals.

Rev. Otis Hartley, Rev. D. F. Helms, Rev. C. A. Snider, Rev. W. D. Cole and T. R. Hamilton will represent Lima churches at the meeting it was announced.

POLICE HEAD TELLS AD MEN OF DEPARTMENT WORK; PRAISES HIS OFFICERS

Co-operation between citizens and the Lima police force was asked by Thomas Lanker, chief of police, at the meeting of the Ad club Thursday noon.

Many of the complaints made by citizens are not complete enough for the police to follow up and many of them are brought about in a spirit of spite and a desire to "get even" with someone, Lanker said.

Crooks plan their misdeeds for months in advance and the police have but a minute or two to get on their trail and hunt them down, he said.

Officers of the Lima force were commended by Lanker for prompt action when the Lima Dime Savings bank was robbed. The men were on the scene of the robbery within a minute and a half after the alarm had been sent in, Lanker said.

A burglar alarm system now in preparation will make it practically impossible for daylight holdups to be effected, the chief said.

SENATORS ARE AT VARIANCE

Pomerene, Willis See European Situation Differently

LIONS RE-ELECT NORTON

Akron to Get 1923 Meeting of State Clubs

"We cannot recognize the government of Russia as long as its government is opposed to every principle upon which our government is founded," United States Senator Frank B. Willis told visiting Lions and Lionesses at a banquet at the Elks Home Wednesday night.

"This government will take no part in any conference, such as the Genoa meeting, which has for its object the exploitation of the unfortunate countries of Europe," he continued.

"We have been a meal ticket and a police force for Europe about long enough, I believe in helping other countries, but I believe in helping our own country first," he said.

Senator Willis also declared himself in favor of a greater co-ordination of government departments and economical expenditures thru the development of a budget system.

Remarks by Senator Willis were at variance with those of Senator Alton Pomerene at the morning session of the Lions convention in the Sigma theater.

Senator Pomerene advocated the building up of foreign trade thru the development of better relations with other countries. He declared himself in favor of councils rather than wars and derided the belief that the United States can live apart from all nations.

These two addresses were high points in the one day program of the state convention of the Lions clubs international. They were well received by the hundreds of visitors and their wives.

Convention activities closed Wednesday night with a banquet and the "Governor's Ball" at the Elks home. The ball was in honor of Orson C. Norton, Toledo, who had been re-elected District Governor during the afternoon.

Pandemonium reigned at the banquet. Noisemakers of all kinds were scattered among the guests and toy balloons and paper hats added a gay touch to the scene.

Chief among the merry-makers were the members of the Akron delegation. They had been successful in their campaign for the 1923 state convention of the Lions clubs and they wanted everyone to know just how glad they were.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS

Speakers called upon by Toastmaster Rev. Kyle Booth at the banquet were Mayor D. C. Rybolt, Akron; D. W. Beatty, Dayton; international vice-president of Lions clubs and C. A. Bingham, city manager.

Piqua claimed the Governor's cup awarded to the club having the largest proportion of its membership present at the meeting. It had been in the possession of the Lima club.

Other events in the regular program included the morning session at the Sigma theater where Senator Pomerene and Mayor Harold Cunningham spoke to the visitors and their wives.

Then followed a multicolored parade thru the downtown section of the city, stopping just long enough at the Barr Hotel, convention headquarters, to leave the women of the party.

Luncheon at the Elks home and the afternoon session of the convention in the Elks lodge room completed the regular business sessions of the convention.

NORTON RE-ELECTED

At this session O. C. Norton was re-elected District Governor, and Ralph Weatherly Springfield, was re-elected trustee. New trustees chosen are: Rev. Irvin Deer, Dayton, and C. W. Ullman, Youngstown.

A luncheon and musical at the Barr Hotel, an automobile ride thru the city, a theatre party and a reception at the Elks home featured the entertainment program for the women.

Lima has been highly complimented for the program, as carried out by the Lima Lions, was the best they had ever seen.

Lima has been highly complimented for a colorful city and renewed activity in obtaining conventions will be made, the chamber of commerce announced Wednesday.

Delegates to both the Lions convention and the Knights of Columbus convention expressed themselves as amazed by the facilities at hand in Lima and at the hospitality shown them by everyone.

WATER GAUGE WILL BE INSTALLED IN OFFICE OF MANAGER BINGHAM

Water pressure will be under observation at all times in the office of the city manager, Harry N. Osgood, city purchasing agent, announced Thursday.

A pressure gauge has been received by the city and will be installed immediately. It will be connected with the city mains and any variations in water pressure will be indicated.

An inkling device will record the pressure upon a card. This card will show the pressure for each hour of the day or night and can be filed away for future record. It will be changed each week.

Water pressure in Lima should be at 50 pounds to the square inch, unless extra fire pressure is ordered. This pressure must be had at all times, Osgood says.

Under the new plan the pressure gauge will be under constant watch by the city officials and any changes noted. It will mean greater economy as well as assuring Lima a satisfactory water supply, officials say.

If the pressure is too great, more power is being used than is necessary and a consequent waste results. Too low a pressure shows that the best service is not being given, Osgood says.

CLEVER RUSE TO GET CASH BOX

Kenton Restaurateur Recovers Cash Register Here

Spar was his name, and the night clerk in the Home restaurant at Kenton did not relish the little sparring match he had with the noted gent early Thursday—it was too hurtful to his pride.

Lima police say Spar walked into the beany at 1:30 a. m. and chipped at the clerk: "By cull, your boss said for me to take the cash register and get it fixed."

The clerk fell for the ruse, police here say and Spar lugged the register outside with the night's receipts tucked in it.

In a few moments the boss appeared and exploded at sight of the register: "Well, you have lost it, have no orders to have it repaired," he said.

Then the chase began. Spar had placed the portable bank on a Ford truck and sped away. The boss and the victim of the ruse followed in another machine and deprived the joker of his burden after a chase of several miles, much to the relief of the flustered clerk. Local police do not know whether an arrest followed.

Moral: Never give a cash register away unless you know yourself it needs repairs.

LAW STUDENTS FIGHT IN OWN BEHALF; WIN THEIR FIRST CASE

"Now, Judge, it's this way—" Two students, in the first year of law school at Ohio Northern university, Ada, warned to the task of persuading Judge Emmett J. Jackson in criminal court Thursday that he had no case against them for driving across a neighbor's lawn with their flivver. They were J. J. Moke, 24, of 226 W. O'Connell av. and his chum.

And they won their first case before the bar. Their arguments were convincing; they even displayed an aptness at "sawing" the judge. Barristers and other citizens in the courtroom congratulated them.

The law said they drove on the sidewalk and lawn owned by Ed Wise, residing at the intersection of West-st and O'Connell-av. but the university men proved they had to do it or leave the car standing on the street all by its lonesome because the avenue is impassable, due to improvements underway.

But they escaped a fine by a hair. The law said they boasted when they were routed from bed that "it's all right—we know the judge. We'll fix it up."

They got out from under that bustle, however, and got away scot free.

MORGAN RULES AT BANKERS' MEET

American Financier Dominates World Parley in Paris

SNAG HIT BY CONFEREES

Germany Objects to Balancing Budget Proposals

PARIS — (Associated Press) — The second day of the international bankers' conference finds the situation less reassuring for, according to Berlin finance Minister Hermes' proposals for balancing the budget, which the reparations commission found acceptable. Such a step would considerably add to the already insurmountable task before the bankers—that of straightening out the European tangle, in which the German situation forms one of the most stubborn knots.

Even if the Hermes proposals are endorsed in Berlin, today's news point out, the bankers will not perhaps be satisfied with the guarantees which the reparations commission deems adequate. J. P. Morgan, who admittedly dominates, will not be influenced by sentimental or diplomatic considerations, it is stated. He will require tangible securities which can readily be controlled.

LOAN TO GERMANY

One of the first points to be settled is the amount of the loan to Germany which is considered essential to any real settlement.

While the bankers are deliberating in Paris, the allied governments have received a plan for an international loan applicable to reparations, the author of which, according to the newspaper L'Ouvre, is Frank A. Vanderlip of New York. The scheme is understood to have had a favorable reception and will probably be submitted to the bankers' committee.

MOVIE MAN WITH RECORD FOR LONG SERVICE HITS LIMA FOR A BRIEF STAY

Sixteen years in the moving picture game and the operator of the first movie theatre in Cleveland has received a plan for an international loan applicable to reparations, the author of which, according to the newspaper L'Ouvre, is Frank A. Vanderlip of New York. The scheme is understood to have had a favorable reception and will probably be submitted to the bankers' committee.

Since the opening of the first theatre in Cleveland, Morris has been interested in a dozen others and has been connected with several of the larger film companies. He lays claim to the honor of being in the business longer than any other exhibitor in Cleveland.

Morris is a member of the Knights of Pythias, the Masonic order and the Order of Moose. He was the first to sign an application for membership in the Loyal Order of Moose in Cleveland. Today the lodge has 1,200 members in the Forest City.

Showing of the picture "Way Down East" at the Lyric theatre this week has brought Morris to Lima. He has charge of the pictures, "The Three Musketeers" and "Little Lord Fauntleroy" also. He is with the United Artists Association of Cleveland.

CHANGES IN OFFICES OF CITY DESIGNED TO SPEED UP EFFICIENCY

City offices in city hall are assuming a changed appearance. An arrangement which will make for greater economy of effort and space has been devised.

A large desk, formerly at one side of the room, has been moved into the center of the room where it is accessible from all sides. Cases for the filing of papers and supplies are to be built in the bottom of the desk.

On each side of the desk a gate will be installed in order that the city officials may have a little more privacy and be able to do their work quicker and better, Bingham said.

Cabinets for the handling of letter heads, blank paper, forms and other supplies have already been installed and orders have been placed by Harry N. Osgood for the remainder of the needed equipment.

When alterations are completed it is expected that the office will be able to handle the constant stream of business in a quicker and more efficient manner.

WAR VETERANS TO JOIN IN PARADE

Plans Complete for Observance of Decoration Day

Veterans of the Civil war, Spanish-American war and the world war, with patriotic societies and auxiliaries, will march in the Decoration parade, which will feature observance of an impressive program prepared for that day.

Final arrangements were completed at a meeting of committees from the various patriotic societies at Memorial hall Wednesday night.

The parade will start at 1 p. m. and will traverse the principal streets of the downtown district. It will break ranks at Memorial hall, where an interesting program will be given at 2:30 p. m.

City commission, city manager, platoon of police, representatives of the Lima fire department and patriotic societies will form the line of march in the parade. World war veterans will appear in uniform and Boy Scouts will also wear uniforms.

The principal address will be given by Rev. Father James Clark, pastor of St. Gerard's Catholic church. In the morning committees named by the various patriotic societies will visit Woodlawn and Gethsemani and outlying cemeteries and decorate graves of soldiers. The monument at Woodlawn will be garlanded with flowers and tags will be sent out to those who fought on land.

The company will then retire to water's edge where flowers will be strewn in honor of those who gave their services at sea. At Gethsemani, an interesting program will be carried out by the Rev. D. N. Kelly will give the address. The music will be appropriate to the day.

FOSTER REPLIES TO DAVIS

Explains Cleveland Accounts Due on Certain Date

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press.) — The request of Governor Davis that State Auditor Tracy correct the impression that the governor, as former mayor of Cleveland, still owed the city several hundred dollars for automobile, gasoline, storage and repairs, today had brought a reply from Andrew H. Foster, chief of the city division of the state bureau of accounting.

In a letter addressed to the governor, Foster said that accounts listed in report of State Examiner F. D. Green as being due for gasoline, storage and repairs for automobiles, were not finding for recovery, "but merely a schedule of accounts due on a certain date, namely December 31, 1920."

"A number of these accounts have been paid since January 1, 1921, and a number of others have been cancelled," Foster's letter said. "It is probable that all of these accounts have been paid or disposed of by this date, but the report in question exhibits the accounts receivable as of December 31, 1920."

Governor Davis declared that he had received bills and cancelled checks showing payment in full of the accounts.

SHORT ON BONUS

Ohio Fund Lacks $5,000,000 Meeting Compensation Plan

COLUMBUS — (United Press) — A special session of the state legislature to vote more money for the Ohio soldier bonus became a possibility today.

With 100,000 claims yet to be paid, the adjusted compensation department has but $8,000,000 left to meet them, Director Roberts of the department, said.

The $25,000,000 originally voted will be short nearly $5,000,000, "making ends meet," state sinking fund commissioners in charge of the bonus administration, declared.

A special session of the legislature would be necessary. Director Roberts pointed out, because any amount voted by the legislature next winter could not be levied until December, 1923.

BIG LAUGHS COMING

IN cleaning house this spring, maybe you ran across the old family album. If so, you had a laugh at the peculiar clothing styles and solemn expressions on the faces of former generations.

Did it ever occur to you, that our photographs are also going to get "the merry ha-ha" when future generations discover them in some obscure nook of the arship-houses that will be in use 75 or 100 years from now?

The marvels of today will be laughably old-fashioned later on. It is hard for us to believe this. That has always been the way. Vanity being eternal, each generation—while laughing at the past—is cock-sure that the present is "the real thing."

HAVE you read Mark Twain's satire, "A Connecticut Yankee at King Arthur's Court"? Its film version makes movie audiences roar at the ludicrous effect of a modern American, transported back into time 1400 years, unhorsing armored knights with a lasso and knocking them down like nine-pins, with a flivver.

The stately dignity of the ancients is farical, from the 1922 viewpoint.

AT lumber mills, teams used to haul boards to boxcars, where they were leisurely transferred by roustabouts.

At a modern mill, the lumber is carried to the box cars on a long conveyor belt, a sort of endless moving platform. The lumber comes in a steady stream. An efficiency expert has calculated how fast the loader at the car should work, and the belt is geared accordingly. The loader works at a set speed or gets buried under oncoming boards.

We regard this arrangement solemnly. But, having all the elements of humor, it will make future generations how-haw.

IN the future, automatic machinery and inventions will free men from industrial slavery. Cheap, fast-flying airplanes will enable all to live in the country. Cities, at night, will be deserted groups of factory buildings.

We, voluntarily imprisoned in cramped apartments or small houses, will seem queer to our descendants. Daily we go to work in our prison cells, to pound typewriter keys, push a pen or perform monotonous operations with machinery—when we might all be free in the outdoors of farmland.

Will the future consider us laughable, pathetic or crazy?

It's a good thing the average person's sense of humor is not highly developed. Otherwise, we might either revolt against the stupidity of civilization—or laugh ourselves to death at our dignified solemnity.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT

INFORMATION of a welcome character comes from the office of the Allen-co. commissioners that more money will be available for the repair and upkeep of what are termed side roads in the country districts, after the state aid program has been completed.

Money that is now being used for the upkeep of highways that are to be paved or otherwise improved by state aid, will be released for use elsewhere. Commissioners believe this will amount to something like $20,000 per year. The total seems small, when it is considered that many thousands of dollars are now being expended on what are termed permanent roads, and that even larger sums still remain to be spent in the same way.

With the main highways under upkeep by the state, it will be comparatively easy, it is believed, for the commissioners to maintain the less important arteries of travel in the manner they should be taken care of, but which in the past has been impossible, due to lack of funds. The first duty of a county is to maintain its main avenues of travel. This has been done, so far as possible.

The situation that has resulted from the action of the state highway department in assuming the upkeep of main roads after being improved by the state aid route will work to the betterment of conditions in Allen-co. Those who use the roads will recognize the calibre of the benefit.

SPACE

WITH the airplane developing marvelous speed and Marconi trying to pick up a wireless message from Mars, your imagination suggests that some day flying men will travel out among the stars, exploring all nooks and crannies of the great space in which our universe floats like an escaped toy balloon.

That day will never come, tho men may travel to the moon, planets and nearest stars outside our solar system.

To travel from one end of the universe to the other, an airplane would have to fly 186,300 miles a second for 1,000,000 years, according to latest guesses by astronomers.

No one can picture an "end" to the universe. If there is an end, what lies beyond? Einstein says space (the universe) is curved, globular like a baseball. What's outside the circular limit?

CONFIDENCE

Whatever you want in the game of life
You've got to get out and try for;
You never will win from the stress and strife
The thing that you merely sigh for.
You've got to believe that it's bound to come,
You've got to besiege, beset it;
For being doubtful and looking glum
Won't help you a bit to get it!

Unless you think that your heart's desire
Is something that's rightly due you,
You can't expect and you can't aspire
To have the thing handed to you;
If you don't believe your success is worth
The energy to achieve it
Who else, I ask you, in all the earth,
Are you hoping to have believe it?

You need a spirit that naught can daunt
Whatever the task that's set it;
You've got to believe in the thing you want
And fight like the deuce to get it!

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

ANGELS IN BLUE

(BY DR. R. H. BISHOP)

One of the greatest factors in making 1921 the healthiest year of our country was "the angel clad in blue", the public health nurse. That 1921 attained a death rate of 8.54 per 1000 lives, 13.7 per cent lower than 1920, gives an idea of her work.

A public health nurse is a trained nurse who has had special instruction in public health work and who spends all her time, not in the care of the sick, as does the trained nurse, but in the prevention of sickness. You employ a trained nurse when someone becomes ill. The public health nurse is employed by the state, county, city, town or village or sometimes by private organizations, such as the Red Cross, the local tuberculosis society, and by large stores and factories.

The public health nurse teaches mothers how to keep babies well. She visits homes where there is contagious disease and instructs the family how to prevent it from spreading. She assists the school medical inspector and afterward visits the homes and urges parents to follow the instructions of the doctor.

The work of the public health nurse has proved to be one of the most effective measures of protecting the health of a community and is an important factor in the prevention and control of communicable disease, because she visits and instructs the individual in the home.

A THOUGHT

In your patience possess ye your souls.—Luke 21:19.

A vexation arises, and our expressions of impatience hinder others from taking it patiently. Disappointment, ailment, or even weather depress us, and our look or tone of depression hinders others from maintaining a cheerful and thankful spirit. We say an unkind thing, and another is hindered. We say a provoking thing and our friend is hurt. Wrong-feeling is more infectious than wrong-doing.—Frances R. Havergal.

WILL SAFEGUARD PRIZEFIGHTERS

Boxing Commission Orders Change at Memorial Hall

COUNTY BOARD IS AGREED

Remove Danger of Fighter Falling Off Stage

Precautionary measures, which may be the means of saving some prizefighter from injury by being knocked clear from the stage, are to be taken by the boxing commission, Joe Hartline, president, declares.

The ring ropes, according to Hartline are in dangerous condition, in that they are only moored to the stage with screws. It is very flimsy, and might collapse under strain, he thinks.

"I fear," said Hartline, "that some of our sluggers may back his opponent into the ropes at the front of the stage and land a dream knockout."

ACCIDENT FEARED

"The force of the blow" may be hard enough to send him staggering into the ropes, but still might be enough to pull the ropes at the rear of the stage.

"I can conceive of a man being knocked entirely off the stage by the blow by giving way of the ropes. He might strike on his head. Someone even might be killed in that manner."

"We have nice clean sport here," declared Hartline, "and the commission doesn't want anything to happen to ruin it."

Hartline laid the situation before the county commissioners Thursday and asked permission to bore two holes through the rear wall of the building.

Iron rods, three-fourths of an inch in diameter, secured on the outside by cast iron plates will pass thru the wall, according to his plan. The ropes are to be anchored to the rods.

GUARANTEE ASKED

Commissioners Gray, Thompson and Craig thought favorably of the plan, but asked a guarantee that the building will not be marred in any way.

A similar plan was broached to the commissioners more than a year ago, but was turned down, because it was proposed to take bricks out of the wall.

BIDS ON $536,000 SEWER BONDS EXPECTED FRIDAY

Bids on $536,000 intercepting sewer bonds will be opened by Egan O. Sellers, city auditor, at noon Friday.

These bonds bear five per cent interest and the last bond will be paid off in 1935. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $11,250 as an evidence of good faith.

Many inquiries have been received from bond firms in all parts of the country but no bids have been filed. Bids are expected late Thursday afternoon and Friday morning.

Bonds sold at the last opening of bids brought the city a premium sufficient to cover the interest rate to 4 1/2 per cent. It is believed that these bonds will sell well under five per cent.

U. S. Relief Board Opens Drive on Disease in Russia

CHOLERA, TYPHOID FOUGHT

Educational Campaign Instituted—Warnings Given

LONDON—(Associated Press)—A sanitary spring offensive calling for the inoculation of 10,000,000 people against five communicable diseases, has been undertaken by the Medical Department of the American Relief Administration in Russia, says a cable reaching the London office.

Typoid, para-typoid (A and B), smallpox and cholera, which latter has now begun to appear in several regions, are the epidemics which the A. R. A. hopes to eradicate in this way.

The vaccines are now arriving in Russia and are being distributed to the districts and the assistance of the central government and the local health authorities has been enlisted in order to secure the co-operation of the people themselves.

The A. R. A. is also trying to revive such native sources as that of the laboratory at Roux which was known as "the second Pasteur institute." This has been practically closed owing to lack of materials and food for the staff. Now, however, the A. R. A. officer in Samara has induced the government to guarantee water, fuel and forage for animals needed for experimental purposes. The A. R. A. is giving laboratory supplies and food packages for the personnel.

An educational campaign instituted by the government showing the dangers pictorially of the house, the mosquito and the fly and the necessity for removing all rubbish and filth, has prepared the way. As many of people to be inoculated are receiving American rations, this prophylactic offensive is expected to be successful.

WHAT I MADE FOR $10

With only $60 an economical housewife has made summer wardrobes for herself, her younger sister and her small son. In this, her third article for The Lima News, she tells how $10 provided a summer outfit for her son.—Editor.

JUNIOR'S clothes are a problem. He is just 6 and I found this spring he'd grown out of nearly everything. I had to begin at the beginning to fit him out again.

Because I was in a hurry to get him at least one set of everything he'd need I planned to make these summer clothes for him. I was astonished myself when I found that for $10 I had bought materials for two suits, a blouse, pair of knickerbockers and a light coat.

That's enough even for a very active small boy to start the summer on, and he won't have a chance to grow out of them.

MIDWY SUIT

Most practical and most becoming for a small boy is a midwyt suit. It can be made up in any one of half a dozen durable wash materials that will stand repeated rubbings. Colored suits are rather more practical than white ones, so I bought blue poplin.

The bolero suit I made of pongee with a blouse of batiste. It is light and cool and most satisfactory. Then for really hard wear I chose cotton corduroy knickerbockers and made a separate blouse of colored shirting. The coat wasn't at all the problem. I expected it to be. I made it of light tweed and lined it with good saten. It will serve him all summer for the cooler days and evenings.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I am a married man 25 years of age and altho I have been married only two years, I am getting disgusted with married life. My wife has always been rather lazy and also somewhat selfish. She never thinks of getting up and getting my breakfast, instead stays in bed until 9 and 10 in the morning. She goes out almost every night and whenever I ask her where she is going she tells me it is none of my business. I am getting disgusted with her and am thinking about leaving her. Don't you think I am right?

A READER.

No, I do not think you are right! You have been too willing to accept the situation and, apparently, have made no effort to compromise. You should not be dictatorial or domineering; but neither do you want your wife to break up your home.

Seemingly, you have permitted your wife to grow away from you. When she wants to go out at nights why not go with her? Enjoy her diversions with her. No doubt, you have let her think you don't care about her. Do not think of leaving her if there is still a chance for you to be happy together.

Dear Miss Smart:

I have granulated eyelids and my lashes have about all come out. Could you kindly suggest something to restore them and make them thick? (2) Is there anything to keep patent leather slippers from cracking?

"PEG."

"You should consult a physician immediately if you have not already done so. For restoring your eye lashes try anointing the eyes with the following salve: 2.50 grams of vaseline, 2.50 grams of lanoline and 0.02 grams of oxide of zinc. If you will apply this remedy you will find that your eye lashes will once again acquire lustre and you will no longer have to mourn them. TODAY'S word is ANOMALY. It's pronounced—a-nom-a-l, with accent on the second syllable. It means—something which departs from the common rule, which refuses to be classified or explained. It comes from—Lath— "anomaly," something uneven or irregular. It's used like this—"It is a strange anomaly of the British parliamentary system that, while a woman is entitled to membership in the house of commons, she may not sit in the house of lords."

OUR FIRST YEAR

—BY A BRIDE—
A KISS FOR MY HUSBAND

Bonny took us home in her car, on her way to a big dance given for returning college men. After she left us she would pick up two young men at a hotel. Her chauffeur and her father's car were the sole surety of the indubitable respectability of this proceeding.

"Jack, kiss me goodnight!" Bonny suggested as we drew up at our door. "Peggy first! There! Peg, you look blue! What's wrong? Don't you like Jack's new mustache?"

"I detect it!" I answered, only half-honestly, because I ought to have added that I detected the flapper freedom which permitted Bonny to kiss another girl's husband.

From Jack's quick way of getting me out of the car and into our suite I knew that the subject of our conversation and Bonny's kiss annoyed him excessively. His only remark about the rehearsal had nothing to do with my success:

"I suppose a wife could make a husband pay that way—better than any other."

He was speaking of the child in the play and the mother's crime. And I had hoped, that Bart's primitive version of love would make Jack wretchedly jealous. And Bart had expected it to. And Jack ignored it entirely.

Instead of insinuating that I and Bart had overacted my husband was caught up with the idea that a wife could take vengeance by robbing a father of his child!

While I was thinking only of my husband's love for me, Jack was considering the larger aspects of married life. Never before had it occurred to me that Jack had any particular interest in babies.

I had the unmarried girl's view of children, I prided myself that it was an up-to-date view to consider the child as particularly the woman's affair.

Jack and I had more than once talked of our family. I realized that Jack had an indefinite sort of a notion that it was good for a man to have his children around him as he grew older, also. I knew that Jack would make a splendid father. But—not yet—not yet!

So far in my married life I had taken it for granted that I filled all the needs of my husband's heart.

Of course, when we could afford children, when we had a real house with a yard instead of a suite in an apartment, I would think it time to raise my babies.

No wonder Jack astonished me by a notion that it was good for a man to have his children around him as he grew older, also. I knew that Jack would make a splendid father. But—not yet—not yet!

LINDA LEE, INC.

By LOUISE JOSEPH VANCE

...a month of Hollywood, and Linda Lee, Inc. should not be made to look like a man with a beard and a mustache.

It is a feeling that she had cast her eyes on a strange place was quick to see in those three days of her life. Linda Lee, Inc. was a place where the business of the world was being done.

There was a north side to the business of course. One heard dark eyes in the night. But a woman's eyes are not the only eyes that are in the night. There are many eyes that are in the night.

For the part she was supposed to play in this picture of Summerland, Linda Lee, Inc. was a place where the business of the world was being done.

Not a word of an involuntary smile. Not a word of an involuntary smile. Not a word of an involuntary smile.

As an involuntary smile, Miss Lee was to meet Mr. Summerland under the stars of the night.

It was a scene from the life of a woman. It was a scene from the life of a woman. It was a scene from the life of a woman.

spite and because of the tumult of her senses, that she was lost. Control of the situation between them passed in that instant from her hands to his.

Released, at last, she looked round, dazed and breathless to find that, during the business of the kiss, a party of uninvited onlookers had been added to their professional audience.

A motor car had slipped up on the group and stopped and one of its two passengers had alighted and drawn near to watch.

This was Bellamy. Momentarily stunned eyes saw the face of Bellamy only as a swimming blur of flesh-color shaded by a smile of lateral mockery, her was handicapped by panicky conviction that it was all up now with Linda Lee.

In another minute or two everybody present must learn, by nightfall the studios would be agog over the news that Linda Lee was no less a personage than Mrs. Bellamy.

All at once, Lucinda discovered how passionately her heart had become implicated in this adventure. To hear the inevitable verdict read was a thing that she could not bear.

"Another scene struck society woman!" were an affront to decent self-esteem by the side of which it seemed a trivial matter that Bellamy, no longer her husband but by the grace of the filmist of cruel fictions, had caught her in the act of kissing another man.

Notwithstanding, her cheeks were hot, she experienced infinite vexation of the knowledge—she was shaken by gusts of irritation in whose grasp she could almost without a qualm have murdered Bellamy where he stood, if only to quench his graceless grin.

The gay calculation fell upon ears incredulous. "How do you do Miss Lee. Don't say you've forgotten me so soon!" "Don't you know Bellamy Duce?" "Don't be ridiculous, Bell!"

"Can't blame me for wondering—can you?"—seeing the way you stare, as if I were a ghost. "So you are!" Lucinda retorted, shocked into gasping coherence by this impudence. "I can't imagine a greater surprise."

"I believe you. But think of mine—I mean, of course my astonishment." "Bel would have her hand, there was no refusing him that open sign of friendship. There was nothing she could do now but take his cues as they fell and treat the rencontre as one of the most welcome she had ever experienced."

"But wherever did you hob up from, Bell?" "From the east, naturally—last night's train. Never saw a movie in MORE TO FOLLOW... by R. R. the making before, you know. Most entertaining. "Conditions are what one makes them, out here in California I hope you'll find the climate healthier than Chicago's."

They had been some time under way when Fanny broke in upon Lucinda's meditations with an ecstatic murmur. "Pleasant!"

"I'm glad you think so," she said shortly. "Don't be upstage. You know it, priceless. Why didn't you tell me your Bel was such a lamb?"

"He's not my Bel any more, and I don't consider him a lamb."

"Then I presume you've no objection of my naming him?"

But Lucinda was inattentive, she had lapsed swiftly into an abstraction which had less to do with the appearance of Bellamy than the issue of the Summerland affair. Nothing that had happened since had served to erase the impression of that first kiss, nothing conceivable could seem half so momentous. The presence of the camera had meant nothing, they had kissed in earnest; now, her lips had confessed too much. It remained only to be determined whether or not Summerland had understood their message. If he had, Lucinda well knew, she was a lost woman.

She was possessed with a species of vaporous alarm.

TWINS IN TRIP TO MOON SEE CITY OF ICE

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Oh, isn't it beautiful!" Nancy gasped. "Silver," answered the Mushroom. "And these flowers?" asked Nancy. "They're all yellow and shiny. What are they made of?"

"Gold," said the Mushroom. "And the rocks shine, too," went on Nancy. "They look like diamonds."

"Some of them are," nodded the Mushroom. "And some are moon stones, and some are pearls. They are merely rock crystal, and some are coral."

"Oh, there's a city," pointed Nancy. "And it's white too. What's it made of?"

"Ice," replied their fairy friend. "Ice that never melts here on the moon. It can be carved into beautiful shapes."

"I see another city yonder," cried Nancy, pointing in an opposite direction. "Is it ice, too?"

"No, fine marble with trimmings of jewels," was the answer. "The cities on the moon are so beautiful they cannot be described. But come! We must find Mr. Peabody. The Man-in-the-Moon. He'll be waiting!"

JACKIE COOGAN A COMEDIAN? NO, A TRAGEDIAN

A WIDELY spread notion is that Jackie Coogan is a great comedian. Some have said that he is second only to Charlie Chaplin who first gave him prominence in "The Kid."

Perhaps Chaplin is considered a comedian rather than a tragedian because he seeks to fashion his antics after a pattern that appeals to the heart of a child.

But Jackie Coogan is a child, a serious little one who probes into the dim past of grown-ups and presents the retrospect of childhood's seriousness. Therein lies the tragic quality of his acting.

A little boy trying to be funny is not comedy, but there is an ineffable poignancy in the sight of a talented little scrawling trying to shoulder the troubles of the universe. It is thus that you find Jackie in "Trouble," his newest First National release.

A dog and an "adopted" mother are the two things that are dear to the little tragedian in "Trouble." The entire play pivots upon his affection for these two. Only a man who as a boy thought of his mother as having a little too much of this world's troubles and of his dog as a creature of understanding and human impulse can appreciate the pathos of this picture, mistakenly called a comedy.

No film has caught the tender pathos of childhood as has "Trouble." It is an epic of human interest and in that respect it takes its place alongside "The Jack Knife Man" and "Orphans of the Storm."

MOVIE SNAPSHOTS
And now comes another "sheik" picture — H. B. Warner in "The Sheik of Araby." It's a revival of an old one called "The Man Who Turned White."

Doris May is to star in "Twin Brides." Yep, she's to be both of 'em.

"Sic 'Em Brownie" is the title of the wonder dog's new comedy.

Harry Carey's next picture is to be called "The Battle." That sounds like Carey.

"Free Air," a Salepost story by Sinclair Lewis, has been filmed. That story possessed greater dramatic merit than his more famous novel, "Main Street."

Jack Holt is to do a series of Peter H. Kyne stories. Among them are "The Lost Kingdom," "Humanizing Mr. Winby," and "The Land Just Over Yonder."

George Fitzmaurice is to film Mary Johnston's "To Have and To Hold" with Betty Compson in a leading role.

Charlie Chaplin would like to borrow the castle and drawbridge set Doug is using for "Robin Hood." Doug asked him what he'd do with it. Chaplin answered: "I'd get into my derby and shoes, have the drawbridge let down, walk out, throw the cat into the front yard, pick up the milk bottle and morning paper, walk back into the castle and have them pull up the drawbridge."

"Affinities," by Mary Roberts Rinehart, is being photodramatized by Ward Lascelle with Colleen Moore playing the lead.

Doris Pawn plays opposite Richard Talmadge in "Lucky Thirteen."

A sandstorm allowed Tod Browning to shoot in half a day scenes necessary for "Under Two Flags," which he thought would require months with the aid of wind machines.

Raymond McKee, they tell me, has returned from a whale hunt in the Caribbean seas where for motion picture purposes he was towed thru the water by a wounded whale. "Down to the Sea in Ships," is the name of the picture in which Mr. McKee will be seen in the wake of the water monster.

Mary Thurman, leading woman for Richard Barthelmess in "The Bond Boy" expects shortly to enter vaudeville.

SPORT CORES

Try to reduce your weight, without a hunger strike. Just put a tape on the job, and then eat all you like.

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Sam Rice, Washington outfielder, hit a homer with one on and beat the Yankees 5 to 3. The Yanks fouled the bases with one out in the ninth and couldn't score.

Rep Collins gave the Indians seven bases on balls, but he was effective in the pinches and the Red Sox won 6 to 2.

Two homers by Harry Heilmann and one by Flagstead, a pinch hitter, gave the Tigers a 7 to 6 victory over the Athletics.

Bancroft's double, Frisch's second and Groh's sacrifice gave the Giants a run in the tenth inning that beat the Reds 2 to 1.

The Cards lost their fourth straight when the Braves won 9 to 3.

The Braves have a fashionable, but only do not wear wool socks, but they often roll their hose.

Low Tender, Philadelphia, is guilty of holding up the Leonard-Tender lightweight championship fight, according to a statement from the New York boxing commission. Tender wanted 25 percent of the profits and a 50 percent fight.

Playing a "hunch," the University of California track team is staying in Boston at the hotel where they stopped last year, instead of going out to Swampscott with the other athletes here for the "intercollegiate" starting tomorrow. The Californians considered the hotel "lucky."

President Harding has been given a handicap of 22 strokes in the news magazine golf tournament here tomorrow.

Jim Tracey, Australian heavyweight champ, will meet Luis Firpo South American champ, in Buenos Aires next month.

Charles Frank, best known of Southern baseball men, died in Memphis today after an illness of a year. He was one of the organizers of the Southern Association.

Charles Sanders successfully defended his title as New England intercollegiate champion by defeating Roger Larver, Massachusetts Tech.

BROWNS HOLD BEST CARDS IN A. L.

NEW YORK—(By Henry L. Farrell) A full round has been dealt in the American League and it looks as if the St. Louis Browns hold the best cards. They may not win the 1922 pot but they will force the winner to go high and hard for it.

The Browns and the Yankees split even in the first important series of the year, but if there are "moral victories" in baseball, the Browns won it. They romped away to a pair of easy victories and in the two games they dropped they forced the Yanks to bring everything out in extra innings.

St. Louis is going along smoothly right on the heels of the Yanks while the American League champions look to be burning out a lot of energy that would be very valuable in August.

FINISH AT HOME

The Yanks have finished their long stay at home and the Browns have successfully finished their first hard trip on the road. Players of both clubs say that amounts to nothing in the way of coming handicaps. The Yanks claim they are a good road club and that the Browns are going home to battle the humidity of a St. Louis summer.

Contrary to general opinion, the return of Ruth and Meusel to the Yank line-up has served to upset the club rather than put it on its feet. Ruth always looks bad when he is not hitting and he hasn't started yet. The "famous" pitching staff is not delivering according to expectations and the Yanks look wobbly.

TIGERS DANGEROUS

With due consideration of the heart in the Cleveland ball club, it looks as if Tris Speaker would not be a dangerous factor in the race.

The Detroit Tigers are going alone fine and they will have to be figured if Cobb's young pitchers hold their gait.

Good pitching under the terrific hitting of big Miller has put a punch in the Athletics, but there are several veterans on the club who can't be expected to keep their game going when the race gets warm.

The next move brings the western National League clubs east and sends the eastern American League clubs west.

GLAD TO BE HOME

John McGraw will be glad to get his Giants home again, as they nearly went around on the western roads.

Pittsburg sneaked up on the Giants during their trouble, but the dangerous Cards decided to slump at the same time. The great showing of the Cincinnati Reds has been one of the big features of the early season.

Intimate Chats With Rex Beach

About The Great Outdoors

BY MORRIS ACKERMAN

WHILE chatting with Rex Beach one day I asked him of all the hunting trips he had ever made, which one had entailed the "hardest work."

I of course thought his answer would be "sheep on the Alaskan mountains." Far from it, "tapir hunting in Central America," he replied.

For some reason or other American big game hunters have overlooked the tapir I think the reason is because most of our hunters who can afford these kind of hunts prefer Africa, where game is more abundant and varied and where, by the way, the tapir's first cousin, the rhinoceros, is regarded as one of the most prized trophies. Let Mr. Beach tell you something about the tapir.

"Never in all my hunting experiences did I work quite so hard as was the case in a tapir hunt in the Columbia jungles. The stuff was almost impenetrable unless the runways of the tapir were followed. We hunted with dogs and the pack would constantly 'gum the works' by hitting off on deer trails.

"When this would happen it was up to my native guides and myself to try and put them back on the right track again. My clothes rent to ribbons, covered from head to foot with ticks, chiggers and other blood-sucking insects, plodding through snake-infested swamps, slithering through water alive with tropical water-giants (from which we frequently allayed our thirst). I think you will agree it was no picnic undertaking.

"The natives had the right idea. They went thru the jungle in the nude. It was easier for them to rid themselves of the insect pests.

"The tapir is a big animal, weighing up to 1500 pounds. It looks to me like a cross between a hog, a cow and an elephant. The flesh is quite palatable, tasting something like bull meat, with a suggestion of pork."

Mr. Beach made his trip to Colombia in the dry season. The tapir is nocturnal, but is comparatively easy to awaken during its daily siesta. It is "gummed" and naturally in stalking this big animal the more moist it is under foot the better the chance for a close shot.

"And they take some shooting," he says, "pretty near as much as the brown bear in Alaska."

WEBB IS WINNER OVER GRANT

KENTON—Soldier Webb of Toledo, decisively outpointed Sailor Grant of Lima in the ten-round main go of an American Legion card here Wednesday night. Webb landed a foul blow in the eighth which put Grant down, but he was allowed time to recover. Referee Charley Maxwell claiming it was a foul.

Johnny Gary of Marion knocked out Al Dundee of Mansfield, Les Simmons of Lima drew with Tornado Hathcock of Kenton and Young Sheldon and Kid Harris, both local boys, drew in three rounds.

LIMA GIRL HELPS METROPOLITAN OFF

NEW YORK—The classic Metropolitan handicap was the feature of the card at the opening today of racing at Belmont Park. Society planned to attend in force. Racing will continue to June 15, the main feature being the $50,000 Belmont stakes on June 10. Twelve horses were named overnight to compete for today's big event, with $5,000 added, for three year olds and upwards at one mile. The favorites appeared to be Mad Hatter, Senning's Park and Careful.

FRED BOOP SIGNS

Services of Fred Boop, one of the best hurlers in local semi-pro circles have been secured by the Rowlands baseball club. He will be in action Sunday when the team plays at Bluffton. Heitz, of Van Wert, also was added to the roster.

TO STAGE SECOND TRAP SHOOT

The Lima Gun club, whose activities are being fostered by the Elks lodge, will stage the second trapshooting tournament of the season at the grounds, end of E. Elm-st., Friday beginning at 1 p. m. All trapshooters are invited to attend, whether out-of-town or local sportsmen.

BAXTER WINS

DAYTON—Don Baxter, Lima's heavyweight, won a decision over Hughie Richards in an eight-round fight preceding the go between Andy Chaney of New York and Blockie Richards of this city, which was won by Chaney Wednesday night.

Auto Racers Get Signals By Wireless

RADIO OUTFIT ON THE MONROE RACER

INDIANAPOLIS—Radio is going to help automobile racers, at the annual 500-mile classic on May 30, keep in close touch with their pits. It will transmit the conventional blackboard for signals.

Two Ford racers and a Monroe team have already fixed up their machines to carry radio receiving sets. On the Monroes, the set is attached to the right side, so that the mechanic can operate it easily.

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

As Told By Billy Evans and Stars of the Major Leagues

BY BILLY EVANS

American League Umpire and Feature Editor, The Lima News.

HOW TO play baseball.

There you have a real problem.

No game requires more study or greater effort than the national pastime.

It is a difficult matter to jot down any set rules for playing baseball. Every player has certain characteristics peculiar to himself.

By employing his own style, he is often able to do some phase of the sport better than any one else in that respect it is well to be original.

During 17 years connection with the majors I have seen a number of the really great ball players. It is a pleasure to watch the truly great players perform.

I have always made it a point to carefully study the styles of the stars, to satisfy myself as to how they have achieved the highest niche in their respective positions.

All star players have certain things in common, because under certain conditions proper baseball requires that plays be made just so.

However, all stars have their own ideas about how to best make certain plays.

In considering the various phases of baseball, I have taken up each position and discussed the proper playing of that position as gleaned from years of observation and interviews with the game's greatest stars. It is a composite opinion.

I have tried to put these viewpoints together, so that the ambitious player at each position can have the benefit of the big leaguers' experience and thought.

Then to further make clear the possibilities of the game, I have had a number of the leading stars tell how they believe it is best to play the position at which they have won fame.

One can hope to succeed in baseball unless he starts to play the game as a kid. It is a sport that cannot be taken up later in life like golf, tennis, boxing or many others. You must grow up with it and learn as you progress.

FACTORY LOOP GREB TOO ABANDONED LIGHT

LOS ANGELES—William Harrison Dempsey, better known as Jack, arrived here yesterday after a two months' trip that included visits to London, Paris and other foreign parts.

Commenting on the recent Greb-Tunney set, the champion said that while he thought Greb a "mighty good man" the latter was "out of the question as a heavyweight possibility, simply because he's too light."

"Nobody but a superman can give twenty pounds away and beat a real heavyweight," Dempsey declared.

The discussion turned to the Carpenter-Lewis bout in London.

"Did Carpenter foul Lewis?" queried a scribe.

"I saw no foul," Jack responded.

"The blow was fair, all right. Carpenter was just too rugged and good for Lewis."

"And Carpenter—is it certain you will meet him in London next year?"

"Unless something goes wrong in the meantime Carpenter and I will surely meet again next year and unless he shows great improvement over our meeting here, I will beat him again."

STOCK MARKET IS IRREGULAR

High Grade Rails, Popular Steels Under Pressure

NEW YORK — Narrow price changes characterized the dull and irregular opening of today's stock market. The 10 per cent freight market announced yesterday by the union announced commission was the only change effected on rails, without a change in the steel market.

Steel trade organs say heavy buying of steel production will force present rate of operations in leading steel plants to be maintained beyond third quarter of the year.

There is no question but that bearish sentiment prevails in wheat and while temporary conditions would seem to suggest a further lowering of prices, an oversold condition is expected to develop because of the unanimity of bearish sentiment.

Coco Cola net for the first four months of the year was $1,660,000. The net for April was more than five times as much as the net for January.

Dow-Jones says Baldwin Loco declared regular semi-annual dividends of three and a half per cent each on common and preferred, payable July 1 on stock record of June 3.

A feature in the morning's news was the sharp increase in car and loadings during the week ending May 13. In addition the news on the steel trade is quite favorable. While strength is exhibited in several groups, at the same time there seems to be quite a little realignment going on at favorable opportunities.

It was reported that control of the Barnard corporation had been purchased by a leading banking house for the account of the Atlantic Refining company. It was not supposed to be a confirmation.

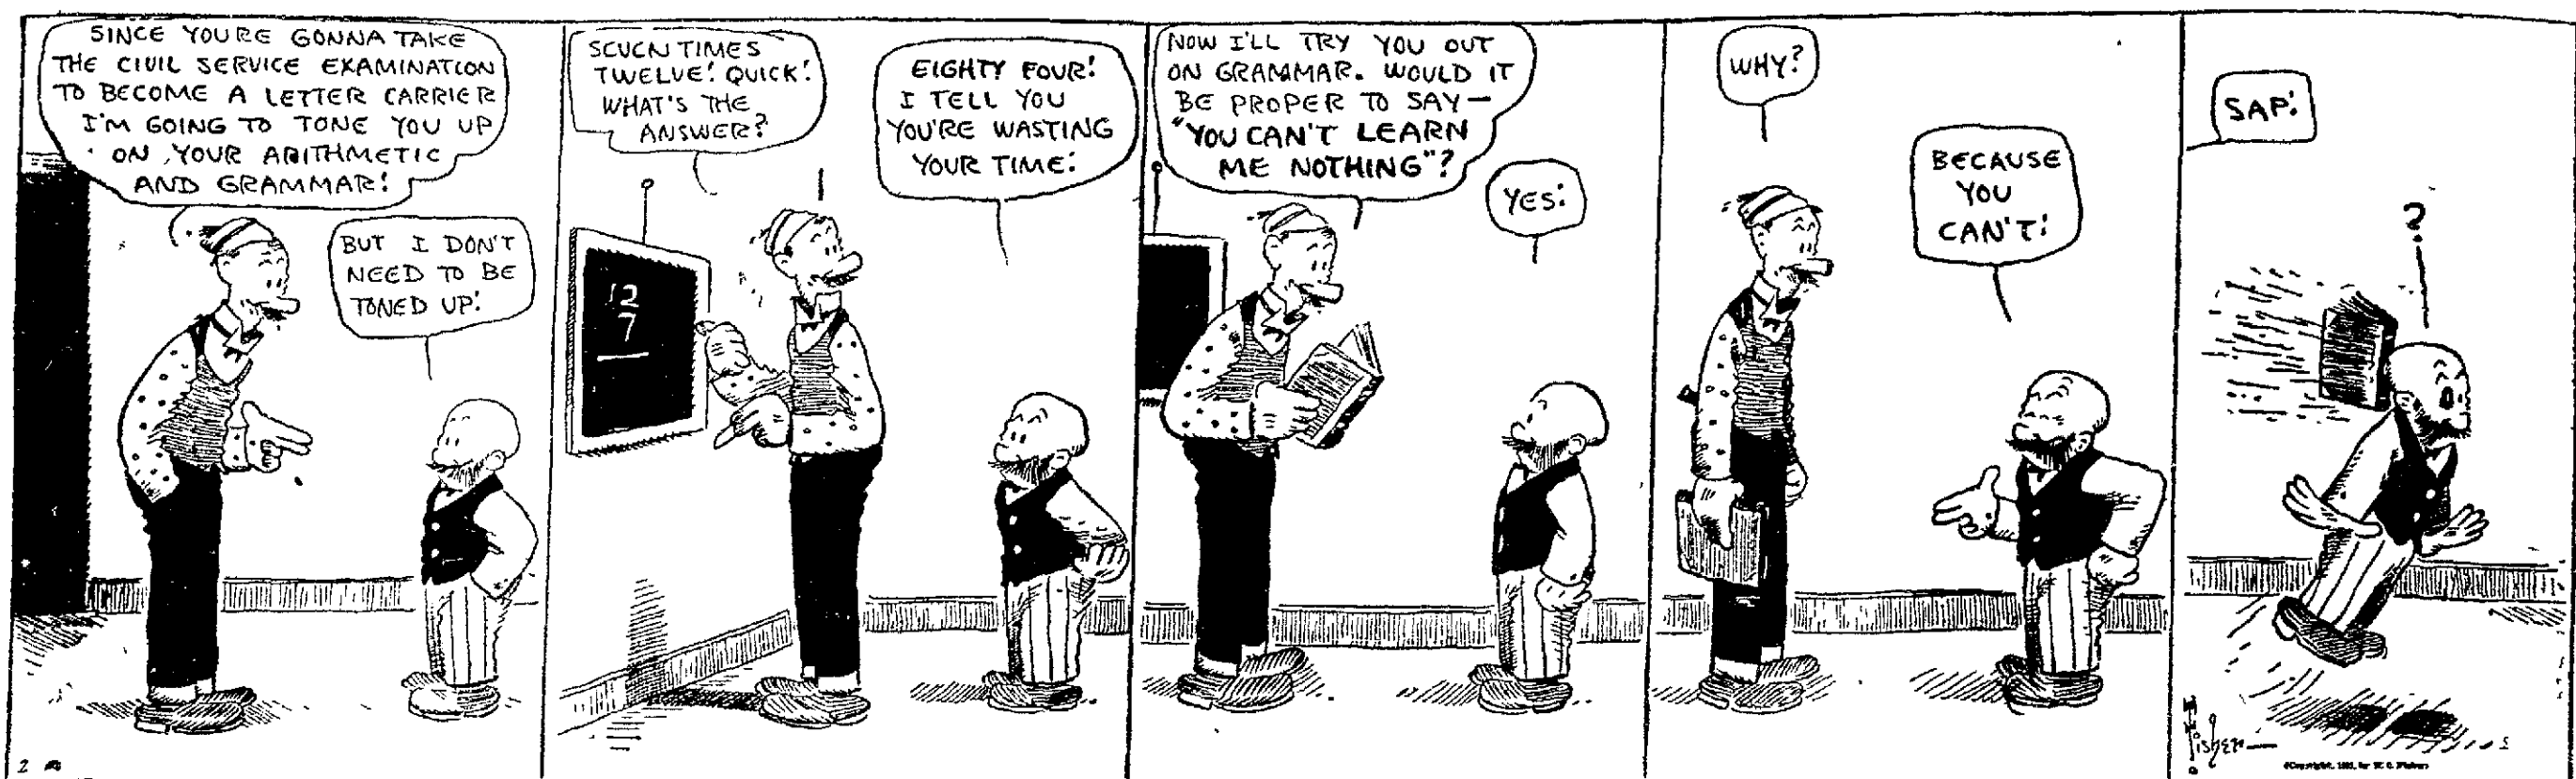

Hog receipts were 24,000. The market was mostly five to ten higher; bulk of sales $10.30 to $10.75; tops, $10.80; heavyweights $10.50 to $10.80.

BANK DEBITS Bank debits for the week, as reported by the Lima clearing house association, were $2,359,692.16 against $9,125,857.38 last week, a decrease of $730,165.77.

MUTT AND JEFF—WE'LL STRING ALONG WITH JEFF THIS TIME—

BRINGING UP FATHER—

—By McMANUS

SHORT SHAVINGS

J M Madigan has a neighbor where there is a sweet little girl as the ray of sunshine in the home.

Joe says the little girl's mother reminded her one day that it was time for her bath, but the child demurred.

"I was ready to take my bath," she said, "but while the tub was full of water a fly fell in and I was just simply disgusted."

Met Shepard usher at the Faurot theatre, was directing late arrivals saying "Plenty of seats upstairs."

A young girl tried it and came back "Plenty of seats upstairs," he said again. "Yes," she said, "but they're all full!"

A H May, wholesale coal dealer, went to the movies with a friend. The theater was crowded. The usher announced "Two single seats." May was much embarrassed by his friend who asked, "Are they together?"

Mrs John Bogart of near Columbus Grove was alarmed by a knock on the door late at night. For she was alone and the nearest neighbor lived a quarter mile away. It was the neighbor himself. Receiving the news "The baby," he called, "has just cut its first tooth."

F J Piening reports a red-headed woodpecker beats a tattoo every morning on a telegraph pole near his house in N Pierce-st.

My only reason for mentioning it," he says, "is that the bird has learned to rap in jazz time, beautifully syncopated."

Mert Sealts reports a friend made the longest drive this season on the links where he plays golf. "The ball fell into a coal car in a passing train," he says, "and went all the way to Pittsburgh."

WILL SEEK SUSPECTED CASES OF TUBERCULOSIS AMONG SCHOOL CHILDREN

Teachers of Lima are being asked to secure for the nurses organizing the tuberculosis clinic a list of names of children who by reason of loss of weight and poor school attendance, are suspected of having tuberculosis.

It may not be possible to have all these children examined but at least a representative number can be accommodated, says Dr. I R Poling, city health commissioner. All the children who come from homes where some member of the family has tuberculosis should be examined frequently as the reason the physician is able to arrest the disease early with little chance of its recurrence the city health officer says.

The physician is most anxious to see these early cases where there is a reasonable chance to benefit the patient. Fathers and mothers owe it to children, nurses say, as well as themselves and the public in general to give their children every advantage in maintaining good health.

OHIOAN IS HURLED FROM BED BY LIGHTNING BOLT

COLUMBUS — Struck by a bolt of lightning as he lay sleeping last night, Edward Greer, 45, was hurled from his bed. Taken to a hospital, physicians found he was paralyzed from the waist down. The paralytic condition, physicians said, is temporary.

The lightning was said to have first struck a screen in an open window and then passed thru the house.

On and after this date I will not be responsible for debts contracted by any other person than myself.

JOIN RADIO CLUB, GET HELP OF EXPERTS

BY PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority
"What can I do to get myself rigged up for the reception of radiophone concerts?"

Judging by the thousands of letters I get from radio fans the country over this is a question that is bothering many. There is no end of advice as to what to do. Some of it is first rate, much of it is bad. The novice has no way of selecting the good from the bad. My suggestion is, join a radio club. If there is none in your vicinity form one.

Most of the cities and towns in this country already have such clubs formed around a nucleus of experienced amateur operators. These men—or boys—have learned by experience just what may be expected from given types of equipment. They have been trained in a thorough school.

HELP TO NOVICES
The ridiculous claims made for many types of radio sets cause them to smile. They are the men to guide the novice during the period of uncertainty when the thoughts uppermost in his mind are "What shall I buy?"

DR. E. A. ECKHART AND DR. J. C. KARCHER OF THE BUREAU OF STANDARDS, TESTING THE RADIO RECORDER DEVELOPED THERE.

I buy? How much shall I pay? And how far will it be possible for me to hear?

And there is another thing that the novice will learn in this radio club. It is this: The most fascinating thing about amateur radio is the ability for some amateur to communicate across several states with another or for an amateur on the Atlantic coast to relay thru other amateurs messages to friends who live on the Pacific.

The radio telephone will never take the place of the radio telegraph as a method of amateur communication for two very good reasons. First, there is no fascination in attempting to communicate long distances by the radio telephone. Secondly, to communicate over a given distance the radio telephone will require about twice as much power as the radio telegraph.

RADIO RESERVE
Men turned in the use of radio telegraph equipment are a great bulwark to the nation in times of national peril. A large percentage of radio telephone fans will find a very natural inclination toward this means of communication.

To these, the fact that our government has set aside a large band of wave lengths for the exclusive use of amateur telegraphists should be of considerable interest.

not require careful and repeated adjustment. This relay is so constructed that the electron tubes may take their power from an ordinary home electric lighting wire.

Among the applications to which the relay is so constructed that the electron tubes may take their power from an ordinary home electric lighting wire.

STURDINESS
According to the description by F W Dunmore of the Bureau of Standards, the new recorder is the result of a search for a more rugged and powerful device than those in existence. For its operation currents of five milliamperes or more are used and the feeble radio signals received are amplified by an electron tube amplifier.

With a current of five milliamperes or more available, writes Dunmore, it is possible to use an ordinary telegraph relay which possesses rugged construction and does not require careful and repeated adjustment.

"1. Code messages, news, market and weather reports may be received on tape at fairly high speed and read off by an operator of comparatively little experience.

"2. A call system may be used, thus avoiding the necessity of a constant watch by an operator.

"3. In line radio telegraphy a sounder may be operated from the signal transmitted by radio-frequency currents, so the operator may not read signals received on the telephone receiver.

"4. The relay can be used for controlling an automobile, boat, or airplane.

"5. Two recorders in series can receive two messages on the same antenna at the same time.

"6. Atmospheric interference is somewhat reduced."

RADIO PRIMER

ROTOR—That part of a variometer or variocoupler which is made to revolve to vary its position in relation to the stator. It usually holds the secondary windings which, on revolving, vary the amount of their inductance from the primary. Tuning is accomplished by the revolution of this part of the inductor.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the fingers.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.
